

DESERT OF BARA NUI

Map Version #1 - 30102007

The entire desert of Bara Nui is an extremely traitorous and chaotic place right from the windswept spiky rocks of the north to the soft and dangerous liquid sand of the south. All sand and rock of Bara Nui is potential liquid and it is only a matter of time before even the hardest pressed rock will crumble and sink into the sea of liquid sand. Liquid sand best resembles water around the freezing point. The difference between solid and liquid is unpredictable. The Skral River has a steady flow of sand from the north but the Sea Of Liquid Sand itself is sometimes stable and able to bear some weight, the next moment it becomes liquid and bottomless. Numerous tribes and strange creatures live in, on and above the sand of Bara Nui and its survival of the fittest. Numerous secrets waits to be revealed. Welcome to the desert.
